The first recipients of the Larry Davis Scholarship Awards were presented with checks totaling $3,000 by his widow Carol Davis (2nd from left) at the Runner's Edge store on Saturday, August 11th. Larry, a well-known local runner, died in early July after a brave and lengthy battle with Mesothelioma, the cancer linked to asbestos exposure. The scholarship represents Larry's legacy to the local running community and focuses on financial help for high school seniors in their first year at college. Entrants must share Larry's passion for running and express it in a 600-word essay. The first winners of the cash awards are: Brian Dillard (Boca High School to University of North Florida), Jacob Goldberg (Pine Crest School to Harvard) and Lauren Cardia (Cardinal Gibbons, Fort Lauderdale to University of Florida). After being presented with his award Brian told Carol Davis, "It's an honor - I hope I can make Larry proud."

The scholarships are open to high school seniors at schools throughout Palm Beach County and Broward. If you would like to be considered for an award please write to: Runner's Edge Foundation, 3195 North Federal Highway, Boca Raton, Florida 33431. Should you wish to make donation, please send checks made out to Larry Davis Scholarship and mail to the same address.
